Citizens Mutual Continues Fiber Progress

This year your company is involved in not one, but two fiber to the home projects. In December the Board of Citizens Mutual voted to proceed with a fiber to the home project that will complete the Pulaski exchange. At the same time, the Board of Farmers Telephone of Batavia (which is managed by Citizens Mutual) voted to move forward with a project of their own that will cover their entire exchange. Your company is in the process of overseeing both projects. All together these projects represent the largest outside plant construction season that we have ever had.

At the same time, we continue to cut customers over to fiber that were part of our project last year. If you are in the northern half of the Pulaski exchange and haven't been cut over yet, give us a call! We would love to get your cutover scheduled! Our technicians make it a painless process, we promise!

At the completion of this year's project 100% of Batavia's customers and over 90% of Citizens Mutual's internet customers will have access to fiber optics at their home. This is another part of our commitment to provide the best service available to you, our owners!

Did you hear the news? If you no longer want a landline phone, you don't have to have it. Citizens Mutual now offers standalone broadband starting at $69.95 per month.
